Most injured sent home, say doctors

NEW DELHI: Doctors at the All India Institute of Medical Sciences' (AIIMS) Trauma Centre treated most of the 36 victims of violence on Sunday evening at Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU) for laceration wounds, cuts, bruises and abrasions.

Between 5pm on Sunday and 2am on Monday, the hospital received 34 assault victims. Two more arrived at noon on Monday. Hospital officials said all victims have been treated and discharged as none suffered injuries serious enough to necessitate hospital admission.

Five of the victims had minor head injuries and one of them suffered a fracture in the ring finger of the right hand. Most sustained soft tissue injuries, and the eight who suffered lacerations should recover without any complications. Of all the 34 victims, 13 were discharged late on Sunday night and the rest were discharged on Monday, around 8am. By 2.30pm on Monday the rest of the victims were discharged. Two of the victims were put in the area and evaluated to rule out any serious injuries. One of them had sustained chest compression and was evaluated to rule out a rib cage fracture. The other victim had sustained a wound to the head, officials said.
